

BORDERPOL© 2010 Appointments and Vacancies

Job type: Executive Officers and Senior Advisors

Date posted: February 2, 2010

Expires March 15, 2010

The world's only global border security and border management organization is looking for men and women with dedicated interest and the determination to join the Executive Team of BORDERPOL to help to create an outstanding 21 century organization with international impact.

BORDERPOL is planning for an extraordinary and unique future. Embracing opportunity, BORDERPOL is working to successfully create an organization that will bridge the operational and policy development gaps that cannot be addressed by existing international organizations. As a trailblazer in this area since 2003, BORDERPOL seeks to expand the Executive group with talented and dedicated volunteers who have impeccable backgrounds and recognized skills in area of international security, law enforcement, diplomacy, education and technology.

Borderpol serves a potential worldwide community of over 1000 national border services and agencies.

As an accomplished senior executive with experience in successfully leading organizations in new directions, your opportunity will be to excel in an exceptional environment within a vibrant, "can do" international community.

Before you respond to this invitation you will have read the Constitution of Borderpol, downloadable from the official website www.borderpol.org . You will have considered the strategic mission of the organization and its non-partisan and fiercely independent nature. You will be pleased to consider working with professionals who share the same dedication of purpose with limited institutional resources.

Create the future! To confidentially explore this opportunity, please forward your cover letter and résumé, quoting Borderpol 7 Program to John W. Oliver, Secretary Treasurer, by fax at +1 509 278 1660.
